

A museum exhibit featuring a wooden desk with a glass display case on top. The display case contains a typewriter, a vase of flowers, a globe, and other items. A large black and white photograph of a man on a horse is mounted on the wall behind the desk. A small tablet is placed on the desk to the right of the display case.

CALIFORNIA'S TRAILBLAZER

THE WOMAN WHO BROKE
THE WEST

Charlotte, under the name
Charlotte, and the name
"Charlotte" and "Charlotte"
"Charlotte" and "Charlotte"
"Charlotte" and "Charlotte"
"Charlotte" and "Charlotte"
"Charlotte" and "Charlotte"
"Charlotte" and "Charlotte"
"Charlotte" and "Charlotte"

*"...I was forging ahead,
for I love to go first along a trail, first in a new vista with a sense of breaking my own trail."*

An arched doorway leading to another room. The room contains a statue, a chair, and a table. The walls are decorated with patterned curtains.